Hannah is an exceptional Solicitor who specialises in both Crime and Prison Law.

With a keen interest in upholding a fair criminal justice system and the right to a fair trial, Hannah joined Tuckers Solicitors in 2020 before qualifying as a Solicitor in January 2023.

Hannah has a wealth of experience advocating in the Magistrates' Court, leading on meticulous case preparation, and providing extensive legal advice. Having gained first-hand insight into the injustices that prisoners are challenged with, and the anguish faced by the growing number of people who are being recalled, Hannah also specialises in advocating for prisoners at Parole Board hearings.

Hannah prides herself on providing excellent client care and approaching every case with dedication, prioritising the client's best interest at the heart of each case.

Hannah has recently been described by a client as a "very sympathetic and supportive lawyer during an extremely difficult time…Whenever I had a query or needed anything explaining that I was unsure of, she would always contact me back directly, answering any questions that we had and explaining everything fully. She greatly impressed us with her attitude and professionalism and really battling hard to get the best outcome possible."
